Jabra S5010

One for all – All for music

We all know the electric atmosphere of the giant stadium, the fans going wild as their superstar performs incredible music, the air pulsating with fantastic sound. Everyone in the crowd is an individual, but they all share the feeling of connection to their star.

Making the connection

In fact, the Jabra S5010 has everything to become a superstar! Here's why. The Jabra S5010 is not only a hi-fi stereo speaker that delivers superb sound quality. It is designed to connect to most of the mobile music phones, music players, laptops and PCs, regardless of the brand.*The Jabra S5010 is quite literally the 'one for all' hi-fi speaker.

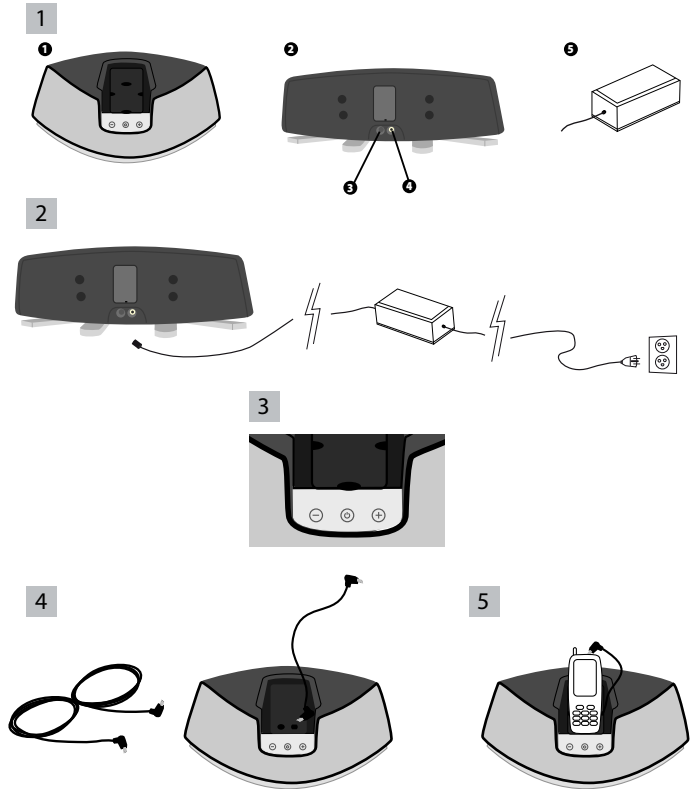

Star performer

The close cooperation between Jabra and Klipsch makes it easy to understand why the Jabra S5010 is a star performer.

Jabra is the worlds biggest headset manufacturer and global leader in audio accessories to mobile phones. Jabra is part of the GN group that has been helping people connect since 1869.

Klipsch is one of the world's leading manufacturers of high-performance speakers. Its 60-year heritage is rooted in reproducing music just as the artists intended, which is why Klipsch is a favourite with professional performers and consumers alike. The official speaker of the Hard Rock Cafés, Klipsch has built its reputation on delivering the most lifelike and dynamic sound possible.
