

Go wireless – It's priceless

In a wireless world, there is no longer any reason to remain chained to your desk by a short phone cord. Simple, effective and affordable freedom is now at hand, allowing you to transform your corded handset into a wireless headset.

With a full 10 metre wireless range, the Jabra T5330 unties you from the restrictions of the phone cord, allowing you to move freely around the office while taking and making calls. In addition, it keeps both your hands free to search for documents, take notes, go online, etc., while you talk.

For your comfort and convenience, the Jabra T5330 headset weighs a mere 15 grams and incorporates an adjustable earhook.

The Jabra T5330 wireless headset increases productivity through hands-free multi-tasking and extended mobility, while maintaining optimum audio quality with digital sound enhancement via advanced Digital Signal Processing technology and PeakStop™ acoustic shock protection.
