

Jabra Pro 930 Mono

How do I use the conference call mode with my Jabra Pro 920 or Jabra Pro 930?

You can pair your Jabra Pro base with a total of four headsets and use them for training or conferencing purposes: one primary and three secondary headsets.

Connect a secondary headset

1. While the primary headset is undocked and on a call, dock the secondary headset in the base that is hosting the call. When the headsets are successfully connected, a double-tone will sound in the primary headset.
2. Tap the Multi-function button on the primary headset to accept the secondary headset. The audio is now shared between headsets.

End or leave a conference

The primary headset user can end a conference by hanging up the call. A secondary headset user can leave a conference by pressing the Multi-function on his or her headset, or by docking the headset in the base. The conference call is still active for the other headset users.
